Clarkmen Victors Over Academy In Hard Fought Game

By TALMADGE CANANT
Sun Sports Staff

Striking at least once in three out of four quarters, the Navarro Bulldogs downed the Allen Academy Ramblers on Tiger Field Saturday night by a 27-14 count.

The Bulldogs outgained a game crew of Ramblers to annex their first conference game of the season before an estimated crowd of 2,000 fans.

Striking three times during the first half, Navarro led Allen Academy to a 20-7 deficit at the intermission. But the Ramblers returned in the second half fighting harder than ever, and they came dangerously close to knocking the count late in the third period.

The Bulldogs, with fleet Billy Hopson and powerful Red Earl providing the ground impetus, and Bill Reed threatening via the air, fought back and provided the Navarro crew with the two-touchdown margin of victory at game end.

Though Bryan and Corsicana were the two principal towns concerned in Saturday night's game, Ennis had a stake on both teams. L. C. (Lucky) Parks, outstanding Allen cornerback who dealt Navarro misery all night, played at Ennis high school in 1947 under Jim Moorman, now coach at the Academy.

Clint Shaw, Navarro center, and Jack Brown, Navarro back, also were members of the Ennis high school team of that year.

Strike Swiftly

Navarro struck less than two minutes after the opening whistle.

The Bulldogs kicked off and Allen Academy took the ball deep in its own territory. On the first play from scrimmage, the Ramblers fumbled and Guard James Bradley fell on it to give Navarro possession on the Rambler 17. Billy Hopson got 7 on two tries, and then Red Earl rammed the line twice for a first down on the Allen 7. Here the Ramblers drew 5 yards for off sides and Bill Reed went over on a quarterback sneak. His try for conversion by placement was blocked, and Navarro led 6-0.

Navarro's lead was short-lived. After the kickoff and an exchange of punts, Navarro drew a penalty to its own 21 for holding. Ed Cole Allen back, intercepted Reed's pass and ran it back to Navarro's 32. Parks made it a first down on the Navarro 18, and then Cole rammed for a first down on the Bulldogs 6. Parks got 3 at right end, then slanted off left tackle for the TD. Jack Barbee converted, and the visitors led, 7-6.

But Allen Academy's rejoicing was also short.

Navarro initiated a 70 yard drive in the closing minutes of the first quarter that paid off early in the second period. In nine plays, featuring the running of Hopson, Earl and Reed, the Bulldogs moved to the Allen Academy 17 as the teams changed ends of the field.

Reed to Wylie

Hopson failed to gain at center, and Reed then dropped back and passed to Leon Wylie, over the Ramblers goal. Wylie made a sensational catch nailing the leather as he fell. Reed's kick split the uprights and the Bulldogs led, 14-6 by a 12-7 count.

The second quarter was all Navarro's, for it was only a few minutes later that they hit pay dirt again. Caton had returned an Allen Academy punt from his own 41 to the Rambler 43, and Hopson had picked up 2 yards at end when the Bulldogs struck ill-fatedly. It was a pass from Bill Reed to Back Danny McLeod, who took the ball diagonally across the field and outdistanced the defenders to the goal. Reed converted on the Bulldogs led, 20-7 at the half.

A special drill platoon of Allen Academy cadets performed with precision marching and drills during part of the halftime.

They were cheered on by Navarro fans and by about 400 cadets in the stands, who came along on a corps trip. Navarro's snappy band and drum major, who performed to everyone's satisfaction following the drill platoon.

Prior to the beginning of the game, the entire group of cadets and coaches on the field, formed significant letters spelling "Allen" and went through yells, directed by a cheerleader standing high in the west stands.

Navarro seemed lethargic in the third quarter, and the Ramblers seemed stronger. At any rate, that period, the visitors took the initiative and scored during the third, while Navarro did the heavy lifting, full 15 minutes, and didn't threaten.

After Navarro had stayed off a Rambler bid on the Bulldogs 26, Allen came into possession on the Navarro 43. Parks threatened his way on two runs for a first down on the Bulldogs 32. Back Albert Brack skittered left end on a fake to the Navarro 15 for another first. Parks and Brack in three plays could get only to the 10, and on fourth down Allen gambled on a pass. It went over the goal line, where a Navarro defender knocked it down, but End Robert Willis was under it and snatched it for a TD. Barbee converted and the score was 20-14.

With Parks and Brack spreading two drives the Ramblers threatened twice during the third and early fourth quarter, but Navarro stayed off both. Then the Ramblers took to the air with a tricky spread formation that held the spectators on edge. Navarro got its share of interceptions on these, however, and it was one of these that set up the final Navarro touchdown.

Lawrence Intercepts

Defensive Back Bobby Lawrence intercepted three passes during the night. The last one he took on the Allen 45 and returned it to the Rambler 7, where he was hauled down from behind. Red Earl rammed to the 5 and then pushed over on the next play. Jerry Caton converted to end the night's scoring.

Parks returned the kickoff to the Navarro 30 and alternated with Brack to take it to the Bulldogs 11 as the game ended.

Navarro's crew, even to the subs, played fine ball against an Allen Academy crew that outweighed them some 10 pounds to the man, according to the program weights. Bobby Lawrence and Danny McLeod were two of the most outstanding defensive backs.

In the line Harold Prestige was on the bottom of many a tackle, and Wines Bradley got his share of defensive glory. Woodman, Watson, Clay Davis, Ted Darland, Jerry Caton and others also did fine work.

Starting Lineups

Corsicana Hi-Y Sending Delegates To Waco Saturday

The Corsicana Hi-Y Club will have at least two delegates to Waco Saturday for the preliminary training session for the annual Youth in Government program.

Orrie Harris and Tom Harrison have been named official delegates from the boys' group to attend the training session, and also the actual program which will be held in Austin on Dec. 9, 10 and 11. The event, which cannot attend, alternates will take his place.

The Tri-Hi-Y group from Corsicana is expected also to send delegates to both sessions. Don Winslow, Y general secretary, has announced. Delegates have not been chosen as yet, he said.

About 100 boys and girls from over the Northeast Texas district are due to be in Waco for the meeting this Saturday, which will be held at Baylor University.

concerning them and the national defense.

Cates said the solution of present troubles doesn't lie in more laws but in "a simple show of loyalty and good will in complying with the spirit of the law we have" in the type of teamwork that the American people expect their leaders in uniform to display.

Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, chief of naval operations, told the committee last week that there have been moves to strip the Marines of their amphibious warfare. He noted that the unification law does not permit a major change in functions without approval of both the house and senate armed services committees.

However, Denfeld added, "attempts at limiting functions have been made by interpretations of language in regulations. He said naval aviation and the Marine Corps can be put out of business if the money to support them is choked off "in the councils of the department of defense."

The committee, poised midway in its investigation of national defense planning, was split several ways on what it might do about the situation its hearings have brought to light.

Some members suggested over the week that congress put tighter rein on Johnson's budget power and give the navy permission to build its 65,000-ton super-aircraft carrier. Work on the vessel was halted last spring by Johnson.

Other members said, however, that perhaps the tighter rein should be on the navy leaders who resist the 1947 unification law, rather than on the secretary of defense.

The current phase of the committee's inquiry was kicked off by reports that navy morale is sinking because of economy orders striking hard at sea-going aviation. The navy demanded, and got a chance to air all of its complaints about Pentagon policy-making.

In a solid week of testimony, coming from braid-heavy admirals and young junior officers alike, the navy made the following main charges:

1. That emphasis on the atomic bomb as a decisive weapon tends to produce a false sense of national security.

2. That strategic bombing, which navy witnesses defined as indiscriminate, mass air attacks on cities and industrial targets, is morally wrong and of little direct military value.

3. That the air force is concentrating on the B-36, its heavy-weight, long-range bomber, to the point of neglecting its other planes, such as tactical bombers and fighters.

Navy witnesses challenged the B-36 itself. They said it would be detected easily by radar, could be intercepted without difficulty by jet fighters, and could be shot down by guided anti-aircraft missiles.

He listed the objectives this way:

1. That Marine units be limited to regiment size and the corps cut to 20,000 to 30,000 men.

2. That amphibious warfare, the specialty of the Marines, be recognized as an army function.

3. That the Marine Corps not be expanded appreciably in wartime.

Cates went on to complain that fundamental questions regarding Marine weapons and equipment are passed on by army, navy and air force officers.

The Marines have no important post in the defense department, he said, and thus "lack adequate representation" in matters vitally

Sheriff Castles Was Hurt Sunday In Riding Mishap

Sheriff David Castles narrowly escaped serious injury or death Sunday afternoon on the McKie Ranch when his horse became entangled in a loose wire and threw the officer about 30 feet.

Ken Clark, coach and athletic director of Navarro Junior College, said that the loose wire in some manner took a half-hitch about the shoe on the horse's fore foot, threw the mount a complete flip and hurled the sheriff 30 feet away.

Castles received a sprained left wrist and numerous cuts, abrasions, contusions and bruises.

The sheriff was attempting to rope a steer at the time of the accident.

The wives and sons of Castles and Clark had gone to the car a considerable distance from the accident immediately before the officer received his fall.

"He hit the ground hard," Clark declared.

The mount was left at the ranch. The extent of the injuries, if any, to the horse had not been learned Monday morning.

Texas State Fair Is Trying For Attendance Mark

DALLAS, Oct. 17.—(UP)—The State Fair of Texas has six days to set an attendance mark of two million or more.

Yesterday, 234,765 persons saw the fair to push attendance for eight days to 1,349,526. That's 218,000 more persons than attended for the same period last year. Fair officials expect an attendance of 2,000,000 today—negro Achievement Day.

The four colleges of the Texas A. and M. system put on a two-hour show yesterday and Chancellor Gibb Gilchrist, who heads the system, spoke briefly.

A six-man volunteer team of firemen from Cockrell Hill walked away with a gold trophy that proclaimed them North Texas' champion pump team. They hooked a hose onto a hydrant, ran out 60 feet of hose and began squirting water on an imaginary fire in a time of 18.5 seconds.

Attendance Good At North Side Baptist Sunday

Attendance was good upon all the services Sunday at the North Side Baptist church. There were 250 in Sunday school and 110 in the Training Union.

Mrs. Jack Goggett, Associational Training Union director, spoke in the closing assembly and brought a challenging message.

The pastor spoke at both the worship services. One came into the fellowship of the church by letter. The annual association will convene this evening, meeting with the Memorial Baptist church at 7:30, and all day Tuesday, beginning at 9:30 a. m.

The services of the week will continue at the usual hours.

WORK AND WELFARE

There is much talk of late about working men losing the habit of sound and honest work. Some of it is justified. The feather-bedding and clock-watching are only too plain to be seen on every hand. But it is doubtful if they are really characteristic of American workmen as a whole. There always were lazy folks and folks who would scamp a job if they could get away with it. But these were always few compared with the great majority of sound, honest and industrious souls who did a good job.

There is a great lack of knowledge of what the welfare schemes mean in terms of work. Are they free? Certainly not. If the government supplies pensions the taxpayers as a whole have to work to pay for them. If the industries supply them, the workmen—which means those belonging to management as well as those in the unions, and everyone who buys the product—have to work to pay for them.

We all have to work harder to make more and better things to get the money for those pensions. We are all members one of another, not only in the human and scriptural sense, but in hard economic terms. If we do not all work hard we cannot get the money with which those desirable welfare plans become practical.

Most Americans are sound and strong, and mean well. What we all need is better accounting about these matters, with all cards on the table.

One accounting fact of the first magnitude is that we cannot afford strikes. Without work we cannot buy anything. Management cannot keep an industry going without workers. Workers cannot have jobs without investors and managers. We all need each other. Everybody needs coal and steel, directly or indirectly.

Why don't we stop worrying about saving face and get on with the work which warms and feeds and takes care of us all?

DANGER IN VITAMINS

A few specialists in child medical care are beginning to voice warnings that healthy children may be injured by overdoses of some of the vitamin pills. The recent convention of the American Roentgen Ray Society in Cincinnati was shown X-ray pictures which doctors said gave evidence of such damage. The doctors making the presentations said they had gathered sufficient case histories to establish beyond doubt that too much vitamin A had caused thickening of children's bones, painful and in some instances crippling, and that too much vitamin D had caused abnormal calcium deposits in various parts of the body.

The findings of these and a few other doctors will likely be regarded by the medical profession as fragmentary and inconclusive. But they should be enough to indicate that an organized study should be launched at once to gather facts to support more useful conclusions. The mere fact that evidence of possible damage from overdoses of vitamins has been found is a signal of possibly great danger, because vitamin pills are used so commonly and so casually in the American household. In the packaging and sale of vitamins, the advertising of them, and the public attitude toward them, vitamins are regarded and handled not as drugs but as food.

TODAY

Down and the day begins!
All with some task to do.
Slowly the small hand spins,
Marking the hours anew.
Six, seven and eight are gone;
Nine, ten, eleven, too soon!
Noon and then, after noon.

Work for the night is near,
So runs the ancient song,
Day, week, a month, a year,
Youth thinks them long.
But when the hair is gray
Time and strength flown,
"We'd have done more," they say,
"Had we but known."

Wait not tomorrow's sun,
Time swiftly flies.
Do all that can be done
Ere the day dies.
Kind deed or praise to say:
Don't let them wait.
Even tomorrow may
Be just too late.

THAT NEW WORLD

In all adulation which is usually given Columbus on the day on which he presumably discovered the American continent, mention is always made of his imagination, his giving of his life to one idea, his navigating ability, the fact that he set foot on the new land in joy, made a fortune for his sponsors but died in poverty and sorrow.

One point about his life and character is not always given sufficient emphasis—but it is what won the great fight for discovery. That is his persistence in spite of all difficulties and discouragements. These pulled back on the great idea from the youth of Christopher almost to the last moment, when the mutiny of his sailors, their unwillingness to proceed, almost wrecked that last hope.

But Columbus never gave up. He hung on and fought his way through. We have now, in the United Nations, another Columbus, seeking a new world—the world of peace among men. In it lives the spirit of that drive for discovery, that need for the new world.

Can it hang on, in spite of discouragements, disputes and days of despair? Can it hang on, and on, and on? Can it stick to its one great idea until it wins?

It can if people care enough. But they must think of it as kept alive by their own hopes, their own labors, their own solid faith. Can we want it enough to hang on?

SAVING SOIL

The Department of Agriculture has sent to Congress a report on recommended farm measures for saving soil and water in the Missouri River Basin, intended to mesh with the flood control and water power development of the basin under the so-called Pick-Sloan plan. This basin development project was authorized by Congress in 1944, and involves ultimate construction of more than a hundred dams and about twenty power plants. It is intended to bring the floods of the Missouri under control, add to the electric power supplies of the region, make some previously useless land available for cultivation, and provide water for irrigation, for navigation in the lower reaches of the river and for the water systems of cities along the river. It is a considerable undertaking.

The idea of the Department of Agriculture calls for an accompanying program of building smaller dams, ponds and obstacles to water run-off in the upper reaches of the Missouri and its tributaries, and changes in farming practice where indicated to conserve soil and slow down the rate of drainage. There is much logic in this idea, and the program ought to be worth serious study in Congress. The cost estimate seems extraordinarily high; it is more than three billion dollars, compared with an authorized total of 700 millions for the basin development project.

JUST A HELPING HAND

ect. Perhaps the cost of the agricultural proposal could be brought into better balance with that of the major plan.

Soil protection is closely linked with flood control and water power development. It is also of comparable importance to future welfare.

SEARCHING FOR THE FLAW

The House Armed Services Committee was roundly praised this summer for the forthright manner in which it wound up its inquiry into the B-36 bomber program of the Air Force. Now it appears that the Committee is called on to do more of the same type of open-minded, forthright investigation in the field of the nation's defense. It is starting out with an inquiry into the state of the Navy's morale, to be followed by studies of the wisdom of some of the controversial decisions, affecting the individual services in different ways, which have been made in the Department of Defense.

It might be that in the investigations now specifically on its schedule the Committee can learn why the program for unification of the armed forces has run into such bitter opposition in high service quarters, why some of the leading military people seem to be so completely against it. Or the reason may not be found in things which have been done in the same unification, but may be in some fault in the basic draft of unification plan.

Somewhere in either the unification program or the approach to it there is a basic flaw. The idea is sound; it makes sense; it ought to provide us with a stronger and more effective force than we have ever had before. The House Committee, and other responsible congressional and executive groups, should continue the search until the flaw is found.

SAGGING MEMBERSHIP

On the basis of the semi-annual statements of circulation of the Daily Worker and other Communist Party newspapers, required of all publications by the Post Office Department, it has been estimated that the membership of the Communist Party in the United States is now approximately the same as the total membership of various Communist movements thirty years ago. The estimate of "hardly over 40,000" active members is reported in The New York Times, which attributes the figure to students of Communism. The circulation of the Daily Worker, the national organ of the party, is put at the level of twenty years ago.

If these estimates are near accuracy, Communism in America has slumped considerably since the hey-day of its strength and popularity in the thirties and early

Panthers Suffer First Setback Of Season In Dallas

The Corsicana junior high Panthers met defeat for the first time this season Thursday night, going down before the Highland Park juniors at Highlander Stadium in Dallas, 25-7.

Coach Bill Hay's crew scored first in the ball game, then lagged behind.

The Corsicana TD came with Highland Park in possession of the ball on its own 45, and attempting a pass, Johnny Smith broke through, took the ball off the passers' outstretched arm and sprinted 45 yards for the score. Donald Tuberville ran the extra point over to give Corsicana a short-lived lead.

The halftime score was Highland Park 12, Corsicana 7.

The junior Scotties scored most of their touchdowns on long pass plays. One, however, was a 70 yard return of a punt.

Coach Hay said Friday that the Panthers were "flat," and that "they couldn't seem to get moving."

A small crowd attended the game.

Cottonseed To Be Stored In Hangar

Erwin and Beasley have leased a hangar at Corsicana Field, Air Activities of Texas, to the Commodity Credit Corporation for the storage of 68,000 tons of cottonseed.

The government is purchasing cottonseed at $46.50 per ton, and this hangar will be the storage depot for Navarro and a number of counties in this area.

The huge hangar is under lease by the U. S. Air Conditioning Company from Erwin and Beasley for a 10-year period—about eight of which still remains, but arrangements have been made for the government use.

The lease is until May 1, 1950, with a 90-day option for renewal.

200 Housing Units Granted Corsicana By Federal Agency

Notification was received here late Thursday that Corsicana had been awarded 200 low-income units by the Federal Public Housing Administration. Word was received by the Daily Sun and Festus Pierce, chairman of the Corsicana Housing Authority, in telegrams sent by Olin E. Teague, congressman from the Sixth Texas district. A preliminary loan of $70,000 still must be approved by the president.

According to FHA regulations, the local housing authority will be able to borrow 20 percent, or $14,000, of the preliminary loan as soon as it is approved, so a survey of the housing situation here can be started and preliminary plans drawn.

The architectural firm of Boese and Harkrider, Fort Worth, will be in charge of all preliminary work and plans, working directly under the local housing authority. Teague's telegram follows: "Public Housing Administration has issued authority to Corsicana for 200 units of low-rent housing under a two-year program. Loan must be approved by president before it can be granted."

The local authority originally sought 300 low-income homes. They based the figure on the 1940 census which showed there were 3,000 sub-standard homes in the city.

The low-income units will provide housing for both white and negro families. Location of the units will be determined by the survey, as will the number to be allotted each race.

The preliminary loan is based on the number of units approved. Four hundred dollars are allowed for each of the first 100 units and $300 per unit for the next 100. The survey and preliminary plan loan may not exceed 20 percent of the total preliminary loan.

One of the first steps the board will have to take after the loan is approved is to appoint a regular secretary, who will be known as the executive director. The executive director will supervise and manage the project.

Roark Montgomery is the temporary secretary. Other members of the board are Pierce, Dr. Wells Stephens, T. R. Red, vice chairman, and King Elliott. The executive director is the only paid member of the board.

At a recent meeting of the local authority it was stated the survey in Corsicana probably will be conducted by local persons under the direction of the architects and the local authority.

The survey will be conducted much in the manner of a census and both white and negro families will be interviewed.

Members of the local authority, Mayor Hubert T. Braselton and the city commissioners were elated with the news and the promptness the local application received.

Chairman Pierce said the local authority wouldn't be able to do anything further until final approval is given the loan. However, all aspects of the project will be discussed at the regular meeting of the board Monday night.

Pierce said special meetings of the local authority would be called from time to time, if necessary, to speed the project. At the present time the authority has no idea when the survey will be started nor when the actual building program will start.

The chairman said, "We'll do everything in our power to get the project started and completed as soon as possible."

The low-income housing program provides living quarters for persons in the $1,800 and under pay bracket. Certain qualifications must be met in order for a family to move into the units. The project is operated under the guidance of the local authority and each decision it makes must be approved by the city commissioners.

The units are built with federal money at no cost to the city. Rent and utility bills are paid on one statement. As soon as the units are paid for, generally in 20 to 30 years, they become the property of the city.

Financing is done through bonds which in no way are an obligation of the city.

The local authority handles the construction and operation of the units. The federal government is interested only in the financing.

The authority now will work with the architects and attorneys, to be hired, to develop plans for the project. When final plans are completed and okayed by the government, contracts will be awarded on a competitive basis and additional advances made on the temporary loan.

When the project nears completion and probable total costs are known, then the local authority will issue permanent bonds.

Ten percent of these bonds must be sold to private investors. The government will take the remaining 90 percent.

The projects are tax free, but a payment in lieu of taxes is paid the city. Other cities have found this payment usually amounts to about twice what the city has been collecting in taxes on property razed. The city agrees to furnish the projects with the usual municipal services.

The units can be rented only by qualified persons and they must

Vocational Farm Shops Play Important Role

Vocational farm shops play an important role in the teaching of profitable, efficient agricultural operations, Charles Barker, a shop instructor in the Navarro County Vocational Training School, declared Saturday.

Function of the shops is not fully understood or appreciated by much of the general public, he said in a statement which follows:

"The veterans vocational training schools have a complete comprehensive program set up, the purpose of which is to teach the veteran trainee a better understanding of the nature of his farms, better methods of conserving and enriching the fertility of his land."

"Since the overall long range purpose of the school is to make farm life for the veteran more profitable and more efficient, and to make the farm home more attractive, more practical and more comfortable, this is where the responsibility of the shop instructor merges with that of the agricultural instructor."

"The farm shops are very well equipped with all the tools and equipment needed. Classroom and shop instruction is periodically given, as well as practical on-the-job training in every phase of farm machinery maintenance and repair, welding, home and farm building, electric, maintenance and repair, also, concrete work, plumbing, electrical wiring and painting, and many other lines of farm building and repair."

Barker pointed out that the shops are not operated for the public, for sale or profit to the school. "Our facilities are for the personal use and benefit of the veteran trainees only," he said.

Hamilton-Beeman Memorial Program Friday, Oct. 21

The annual Hamilton-Beeman Cemetery Association Memorial Day program will be held at the cemetery on Friday, Oct. 21, and all members of the association and all who are in any way interested in this cemetery are urged to attend.

John W. Carpenter, chairman of the board of the Texas Power and Light Company, native of the area near this cemetery, will be the principal speaker and there will be other features on the program.

It also has been announced by officials of the organization that all those members who have not yet paid their dues to please send amount to Mrs. W. T. McKee of Corsicana as soon as possible.

Some of sub-standard living quarters. No more units can be built than the number razed.

The local authority will establish the upper and lower incomes and other qualifications of the renters.

ALDAMA-GONZALES WEDDING HELD AT FIRST MEXICAN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH HERE

The marriage of Miss Beatrice Aldama and D. T. Gonzales was solemnized at the First Mexican Presbyterian church Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock with the Rev. L. C. Hernandez as officiant.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Aldama, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Mary Gonzales.

Background for the double-ring ceremony featured an archway of white roses and seasonal greenery, flanked by matching baskets of white carnations, gladioli and chrysanthemums, and illuminated by glowing white tapers in seven-branch floor candelabra. Family pews were designated by clusters of white roses, and a white aisle cloth was used by the wedding party.

The wedding music was presented by Mrs. Joe Worsam, pianist, and Mrs. John Remonte, pianist. Mrs. Worsam sang "I Love You Truly," and "Because," and the traditional wedding marches were played by Mrs. Remonte.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a lustrous white satin, designed with fitted bodice, long petal-point sleeves, and a bouffant draped skirt that terminated in a train. Her lace-encrusted veil of illusion was attached to a collar of pearlized orange blossoms and she carried an arm bouquet of white chrysanthemums tied with white satin streamers. The bride's only jewelry, pearl necklace and earrings, was a gift of the bridegroom.

Attendants: Miss Consuelo Latigo of San Antonio was the maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Eloisa A. Guerrero of San Antonio and Misses Jessie Gonzales, Ruth Aldama, Doris Morin, and Rosa Pena. Their dresses were fashioned of pink and blue marquisette over taffeta, and they carried bouquets of matching carnations tied with satin ribbons.

Linda Chavoy, the flower girl, wore a floor-length frock of white net and carried a basket of pink rose petals. Eva Maria Aldama, who carried the satin kneeling cushions, was attired in a sheer white floor-length dress. Richard Aldama served as ring-bearer.

Bon Guerrero of San Antonio was best man, Cecil Aldama, John Guillen, Emmett Gonzales and Ben Aldama were groomsmen, and George Aldama served as an usher.

The bride's mother wore navy blue faille with a corsage of pink carnations, and the bridegroom's mother chose navy satin with a corsage of pink carnations. An informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. P. A. Gonzales had charge of the three-tiered wedding cake, and Miss Beatrice Aldama served as ring-bearer.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Corsicana.

The bride was graduated from Corsicana High school in 1945. The bridegroom attended Corsicana High school and served in the U. S. army air forces for twenty-two months.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Ben S. Guerrero, Mrs. Soledad Latigo and daughter, Consuelo, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Latigo of San Antonio, and Mrs. Petra Guerrero of Austin.

MISS HAYES BECOMES BRIDE OF W. A. WILLIAMS, JR., IN CEREMONY HELD IN LUBBOCK

In a double ring ceremony Friday evening at 7 o'clock in St. John's Methodist church, Lubbock, Miss Mary Elizabeth Hayes, formerly of Corsicana, became the bride of W. A. Williams Jr. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hayes of Corsicana, and the bridegroom is the son of W. A. Williams Sr., of Cross Plains.

The officiating minister, Dr. H. I. Robinson, is pastor of First Methodist church, Lubbock.

Views were exchanged before an altar beautified by an archway of white gladioli, other bridal blossoms in formal arrangements and tall tapers in floor candelabra, with a background of greenery.

The bride was given by Mrs. John Oldham, organist, and Johnny Zimmerman, soloist. "Because" and the "Lord's Prayer" were sung by Mr. Zimmerman, accompanied by Mrs. Oldham, who also wore a feature hat and spruce accessories. She carried a white orchid atop a Testament.

Miss Barbara Stalcup of Lubbock was the bride's only attendant. She chose a toast brown suit with brown accessories, carrying a round bouquet of yellow bronze chrysanthemums.

Alton R. Taylor of Lubbock served as best man. Charles R. Hayes of Santa Anna, Calif., Don Taylor of Lubbock and Tom Wilson of Bangs, Mrs. Hays Hoskins of Trinidad, sister of the bride, and Miss Ruth Austin of Lubbock lighted the altar candles preceding the ceremony.

Mrs. Melvin Best of Lubbock, sister of the bride, was hostess for the wedding reception at the home of Mrs. George Best.

White gladioli and mums were used in decorating the bride's table, laid in white imported linen. Presiding at the bell-shaped wedding cake, surrounded by miniature bride figures, was Mrs. George Best. Miss Austin served bubbling fruit punch.

When Mr. and Mrs. Williams left on a wedding trip to Amarillo, she wore a blue suit with navy accessories and a white orchid corsage. They will make their home at 1008 Avenue R, Lubbock.

The bride, a graduate of Corsicana High school, is an employee of Southwestern Bell Telephone company in Lubbock. Her husband

U. Of T. Hospital May Be Named For Beauford Jester

There is a movement on foot in University of Texas student circles in Austin for the naming of the 200-bed hospital on the campus as the Beauford H. Jester Memorial Hospital, according to J. P. Tennant, Houston senior law student.

Tennant was here in the interest of the campaign of his friend, Jim Sewell, blind student of Blooming Grove, who is seeking election as representative from Navarro county in the Legislature.

The late governor of Texas, native of Corsicana, served as chairman of the board of regents of the University of Texas for several years and during his term the hospital plan was suggested.

The student hospital is financed by the student fee of $2 and from gifts, etc., from alumni. No state or tax funds are going into the hospital's construction, according to Tennant. A model pharmacy and pharmacy students is also one of the features of the new structure, the law student added.

Building Of Soil Is Important To Nation's Health, Henderson County Agent Tells Agricultural Workers

By CLYDE E. JOHNSON
Daily Sun Staff

Blaming many diseases on soil deficiencies, Henderson County Agent Roy Morgan told agriculturalists here Thursday night that trouble develops when the land loses its elements.

"Therefore, the building of the soil is important to a nation's health," he added.

Morgan addressed members of the Navarro County Agricultural Workers Association at a dinner-meeting in the Navarro Hotel Cactus room.

Clay D. Davis, state committeeman of the Production and Marketing Administration, and Bob Clieque, local PMA administrative officer, also spoke to the group on the cotton and cottonseed situation.

Only 27 persons attended the meeting, which was presided over by James Davis, a vice president. The Athens official declared that 27 or 28 elements essential to sound health are contained in the soil. It is the deficiencies of these elements that have resulted in a $500,000,000 annual vitamin pill business, he indicated.

Morgan told of two "classical experiments" conducted in Texas with two herds of cattle.

Sixty-three head were placed on 640 acres of land which had been phosphated; forty-two head were put on the same acreage but no phosphate was added to the soil, he said.

"At the end of five years, two cows on the land that was not phosphated had died of rickets; five were disposed of because they were not producing. And they averaged only 400 pounds each."

"In the other group, the soil was phosphated—the 63 head of cattle averaged over 1,000 pounds each, and none was lost."

"In the other experiment with cattle that resulted in a 'pill' or cure for undulant fever in human beings. A herd developed bangs disease when copper, phosphorus and manganisium were missing in the feed; another herd tested negative when no elements were missing."

Lewis Davis told the group that farmers five years from now "will be ashamed to say they're getting a half bale to the acre."

He cited the modern scientific practices such as planting legumes, and the use of insecticides.

David said the nation's cotton acreage allotment for 1950 would be between 21,000,000 and 22,500,000 acres. Farmers will vote December 15 whether they want a quota.

David indicated that the entire allotment program actually was a "cutback" to 1946 and 1947 production.

Increased cotton production this year was indicated in a report on Navarro county, whose 2040 acreage is about 180,000 compared with 164,000 in 1948.

Producers of cottonseed were about to fall far too low, so the Commodity Credit Corporation is setting up a program to guarantee the farmer $46.50 a ton for his seed. This was explained briefly by Bob Clieque.

The government is asking growers to enter into an agreement with the CCC whereby farmers will be paid $40.50 a ton for cottonseed. Growers would be paid a sum not to exceed $1.50 a ton by the CCC for every purchase. CCC plans to store the cotton seed at a junior college hangar.

capable of holding 50,000 tons, Clieque said.

The fact that the government is going into the "cotton seed business" will hold up the price and thereby assure the farmer a fair return for his investment.

The seed price already has jumped from $36 a ton last week to $46 a ton Thursday morning, as the CCC began taking steps to launch its cottonseed emergency program.

Clieque reported that Navarre county farmers are going all out for winter legumes. Participation in the program already is equal to the entire number that participated last year, he said.

"We will have an enormous winter legume crop this year," the official declared.

Guests at the meeting included J. D. Marshall of Henderson County Junior College and Mr. Woods of the Henderson County PMA office.

The invocation was given by Ralph Evans.

The business session included a reading of the last meeting's minutes by Frances Henderson, secretary to Harrison Rendley of the Farm Home Administration office.

Jack Everhart reported that a pair of boots had been awarded by the association to John Aven, Powell youth who was high point man in the 4-H grass judging contest at the recent fair.

Program chairman for the monthly meeting was J. R. Hart, who introduced the speakers.

Miss Collins Is Wed At Emhouse To Jack McCann

The marriage of Miss Jimmie Ruth Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bob Collins, to Jack McCann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elton McCann, was solemnized at the First Baptist Church at Emhouse Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Rev. L. B. Jenkins read the double-ring rites before a canopy of white gladioli and chrysanthemums, and accented with seasonal greenery.

Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. James C. Love, sister of the bride.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a rose beige suit with brown accessories and an orchid corsage.

Miss Betty Bob Collins, her sister's only attendant, wore a gray suit with green accessories and yellow chrysanthemum corsage.

Billy Joe McCann served as best man and Doyle McCann and Earl E. Farmer were ushers.

Informal Reception for the immediate families was held at the home of the bride's parents. The wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, centered the flower-decorated bride's table.

After a wedding trip to points in Oklahoma, the couple will be at home at 604 Feden Avenue, Houston.

BROADWAY....

* by Mark Barron *

NEW YORK — Opportunities along Broadway are many. No one can demonstrate this better than Mack Davis who quit show business to make a fortune out of a fine iron and a knowledge of chemistry as applied to fabrics.

For 20 years Davis was a musician, an arranger, a musical conductor and director of a succession of hit shows. For the producers, Schubert, Lee and J. J., he conducted several editions of the "Passing Shows" and several of their operettas. He was musical conductor of the revue "Crazy With the Heat" and several other musicals which were hits on Broadway.

"Then I signed as musical conductor for a tour of Australia with a show called 'Hollywood Hotel' which starred Willie and Eugene. It was a great success and we returned to Broadway expecting to be greeted with cheers everywhere. And, of course, with offers of jobs in new Broadway musicals.

"Instead, we landed in the middle of Times Square just as the gloomy days of depression were hitting with all their force. Show business, like all luxury business, was at a standstill. Musicians were almost completely out of work and most of the theaters were dark."

What about your health, is it included in the building of your plans? Good health is not a matter of fate anymore. It is the result of proper care year by year. Of what benefit are the great strides made in medicine if each person does not use them to maintain or improve his health?

Doctors and pharmacists can help you protect that health.

This is the 216th of a series of editorial advertisements appearing in this paper each Monday and Tuesday.

Davis began to look around for work outside his musical fields. Other than music, his one field of training had been in chemical engineering which he had studied when he attended Cooper Institute. He had been impressed as a young man with chemical engineering because his uncle, whom he admired, had been in that field for ten years and was earning $50 a week. A terrific sum to the then young Davis.

With some other out-of-work musicians and conductors, Davis ran into a friend of his who was in the dry cleaning and dyeing business. Davis, with his chemical engineering background, understood his friend's talk about the cleaning processes he had exported various chemicals. So he enrolled in the Cleaners and Dyers Institute for Silver Springs, Md. He found there the use of chemical cleaning processes he had experimented with in Cooper Union. Today Davis has many of the operetta and theatrical shows he knew when he was a composer as his customers.

Davis, ever the musician, installed radio broadcast systems in his several cleaning plants as diversions for his technical workers. There is only one stipulation. They must listen to classical music for one hour every day.

Undersecretary Paul H. Griffith will cast the plant's 250,000th ingot to mark a production highlight for the huge, $10,000,000 smelter born of a wartime necessity.

Griffith will be joined by plant officials, civic, business, industrial and professional leaders in observing the event, a little more than 12 years after the smelter began production.

From April, 1942, until the end of World War II, the Texas City plant supplied practically all of the alloy steel for the war effort.

Joining with Griffith will be Congressman Clark W. Thompson of Galveston, and A. L. Terbrake, president and general manager of the tin processing company.

"The latter is a firm organized to operate the big plant under contract from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Operations at the Texas City smelter are expected to be augmented in January with the opening of a $2,700,000 addition for processing hydrochloric acid.

BOYLE'S Column

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK. (AP)—Being a god-father is harder—in some ways—than being a father.

Fatherhood just comes naturally. It is all unofficial. You wait in a hospital anteroom until a nurse steps out and murmurs in an inquisitive voice, "well, you're a father now."

Simple! But godfatherhood is another matter entirely. It is official. And it takes place in church, where the Lord overhead any pledges you make to fend for a child that isn't your own. Yes, being a god-father is a much more responsible and selective act than merely being a father.

But godfathers just happen. Godfathers create themselves deliberately. If all this sounds a bit smug, it is because I am pitching a penny for the proud but neglected status of godfatherhood, into which I entered recently.

Some two years ago Frances and I moved into a tremendous housing project on the east side of Manhattan holding some 35,000 people. The life insurance company that built it rusted out dogs but announced it welcomed children.

A young neighbor couple had a daughter, Nina. We fell in love with her and they said we could be her godparents. Months went by and nothing happened.

"People are always saying we can be godparents to their kids," I complained to Frances. "But nothing ever comes of it. What am I supposed to do—nothing? I feel as useless as a Kentucky Colonel in Vermont."

Well, word got back to Nina's mother. The next Sunday she frocked the child in something pink, and off we went to the church. It was a christening ceremony.

And it was then at last I was sworn in as a real 24-karat god-father. It is an odd feeling. For the first time I understood why women weep at a wedding.

But it's fun to be a vice-president father-in-law. The hardest thing, however, is to keep from wishing that Nina's papa will break his leg so that I can do more for her.

District Race Opened By 41-0 Corsicana Win

By PAUL MOORE
Sun Sports Editor

Corsicana Tiger powerhouse struck on the ground and in the air to wreck any District 13-AA championship hopes that may have been in the hearts of Hillsboro Friday night.

When the smoke had cleared from the historic turf of Frazier Field, Corsicana was leading, 41-0, in one of the most decisive scores in the history of these two neighboring rivals who have played in the same interscholastic league district since the early 1920s.

And Coach Boyd Payne, a product of Hillsboro High School and a former coach there, will have his lunchleasts ready for the Waco Tigers in Waco, October 28.

While a majority of the experts are still saying Corsicana has not played any tough ball clubs, the Bengals have averaged 42 points per game against five teams in a row and still moving with power, aerial strength and effectiveness behind a bruising, relentless and "well-nigh" perfectly-conditioned line.

It was the same old story—Hillsboro was forced to put every ounce of ability and stamina into the battle to hold the Bengals to the 6-0 margin at the half, and in the third stanza: lightning struck with vengeance as the Bengals racked up three touchdowns and then added two more in the final division. And when the game ended, the Tigers were jaunty and still with plenty of reserve, while the Eagles were spent although still scrapping.

Coach P. T. Galley's lads played fine games—they were outclassed and outmaneuvered. As one press coop sifter opined—"Hillsboro is exhausted trying to keep up with these flying tigers."

Corsicana not only played a fine offensive game, but stopped the Hillsboro pass and running game consistently and when in danger.

The pass defense was better than at any time this year and the running game registered 229 yards on the ground.

The rival bands and pep squads played fine, entertaining drills and formations during the half intermission.

An estimated 2,500 persons from Corsicana were in the stands, matching a similar crowd from Hill county.

Birdwell, back; Don Tinsley, guard; Charles Pollard, tackle, stood out for the Hill county club.

Don Tinsley, guard, did a good job of running the ball club, but he was ably assisted. Johnny Crawford played an outstanding game as did Bobbie Stagers, his substitute; Elbert Berry, Walter Bond, Howard Chapman, huge tackle; Sharpley, Langston, and others. Frank Warfield, substitute end, also turned in several good plays.

Matthews, blocking back, participated in a number of fine plays as did Don Moore, Bowden and Wood.

Several of the substitutes will be crowned some of the starters soon if they continue to prove as they have the past several weeks.

Hillsboro crossed the Corsicana and the field only three times and did not seriously threaten to score except as the first half waned and late in the fourth against substitutes.

Berry and Bond scored two touchdowns each while Crawford and Bailey scored one. Bond converted from placement five times and with his two touchdowns gave him 17 points for the evening and 35 points for the season. He has successfully converted 25 points after touchdowns and has six touchdowns to his credit.

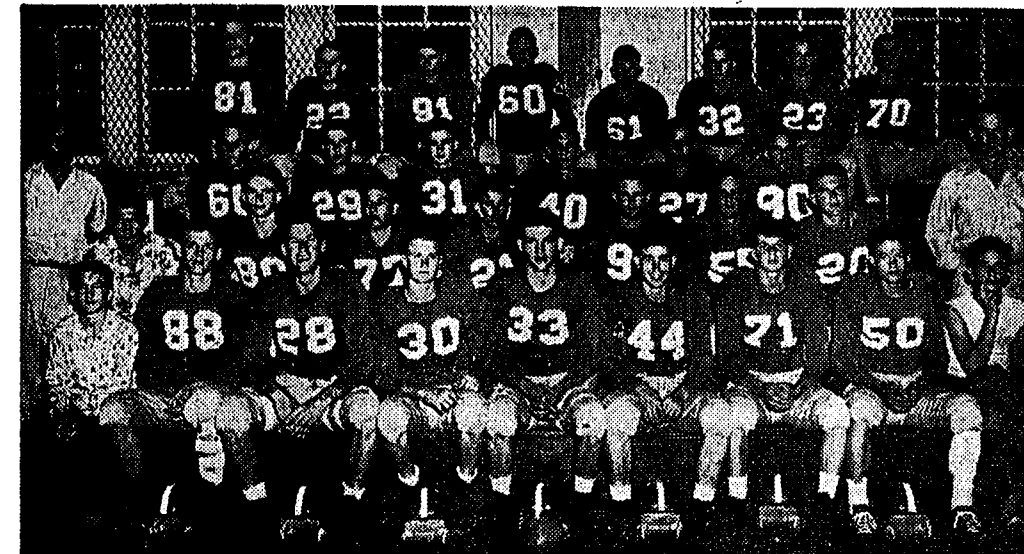

The two teams were fairly close in statistics at the half—each with six first downs. Hillsboro had 86 yards rushing and 17 lost while Corsicana was credited with 74 rushing and three lost.

Corsicana's air attack clicked six times in ten attempts, four incomplete. Hillsboro completed 6, 10 incomplete and 4 intercepted.

While the Bengals did not score in the first period, the drive resulting in the opening touchdown was started in that stanza.

Birdwell had traveled 19 yards to midfield when the Bengal forwards dug in and forced the Eagles to stay in the air lanes. The alert Nutt intercepted a heave on his own 45-yard stripe and he was swarmed under.

Nutt rushed 25 yards to Stagers to the Hillsboro 25 as the quarter

STATE HOME'S LADDIES—The Corsicana State Home is defending its 1948 District 20-B title and bidding again for district and regional honors in 1949 with the above-pictured football squad. ended. Stagers then ripped away for 22 yards to the Eagle 3 on a hand-off at right end and the powerful Elbert Berry plowed over for the touchdown. Bond missed the placement, and that ended the scoring in the first half, although the Eagles threatened after stopping the Tigers within the shadow of their goal.

Nutt again intercepted a pass and returned to the Eagle 26. A pass, Nutt to Bond was good for 11 and Nutt went to the 10, but the Bengals bogged and the Eagles gained it on the 5.

Polard recovered a Corsicana fumble on the 37 and Ziegler, captain, caught a couple of long passes and Brooks dashed 10 to the Corsicana 21, but the Tigers stopped the ground and air attacks as the half ended.

Corsicana struck early in the third period.

Nutt stepped 22 and Crawford made 4 and a first down. Nutt made 4 at a right end sweep and then Crawford took the other end for 5 while Berry picked up 6 and a first down. Nutt went over but the ball was called back and a 15-yard penalty was assessed. Crawford then circled right end for a touchdown and Bond converted.

Hillsboro received and put the ball in play on the 33, but it was short-lived as Bond intercepted a pass on the Hillsboro 30 and behind a screen of blockers stepped to a touchdown and Bond converted to give the Bengals a 20-0 lead.

Brooks took the kick-off and dashed back to midfield on a sensational burst of speed, but Corsicana took over and inaugurated a 66-yard drive from her 34. Crawford opened with 7 at left end, and then ripped away for 20 and a first down to the Hillsboro 32. Berry registered a first down on the 20 and then Nutt flipped an aerial in to the arms of Bond for the touchdown and Bond converted.

Early in the fourth, Corsicana struck 61 yards for a touchdown. Nutt scampered 31 yards down the field behind Matthews and other blockers and a 15-yard penalty for slugging was passed on the Eagles with a back being banished from the game. Kenneth Bailey, a Tiger sub seat-back cut back from the 15 yard line and scored without being touched and Bond converted.

Hillsboro threatened and Capt. Ziegler again was receiving well and went to the Corsicana 5. Anderson punched into the Tiger line a couple of times and made only one and one-half yards and then a couple of passes were batted down with Corsicana taking over on her 4 and in four plays scored the final marker of the evening.

Berry on a fake ran 25 yards before he was hauled down. Nutt made 6 and then 30 and Berry scampered 35 yards for the marker with Bond converting to end the scoring.

Hillsboro gained the ball on the Corsicana 9, but Nutt intercepted a pass on the 4 and returned to the 24 yard line. The alert Nutt intercepted a heave on his own 45-yard stripe and he was swarmed under.

Berry on a fake ran 25 yards before he was hauled down. Nutt made 6 and then 30 and Berry scampered 35 yards for the marker with Bond converting to end the scoring.

Hillsboro gained the ball on the Corsicana 9, but Nutt intercepted a pass on the 4 and returned to the 24 yard line. The alert Nutt intercepted a heave on his own 45-yard stripe and he was swarmed under.

Nutt rushed 25 yards to Stagers to the Hillsboro 25 as the quarter ended.

Hillsboro threatened and Capt. Ziegler again was receiving well and went to the Corsicana 5. Anderson punched into the Tiger line a couple of times and made only one and one-half yards and then a couple of passes were batted down with Corsicana taking over on her 4 and in four plays scored the final marker of the evening.

Kerens, State Home Survive Tests To Lead In District 20-B Football Race

State Home and Kerens wound up neck and neck this morning for first place in the District 20-B standings by virtue of wins over Italy and Blooming Grove Friday night. The Lions defeated Italy 26-0, and Kerens nipped Blooming Grove 19-7. Blooming Grove had been in a tie with the Bobcats and Lads for first place up until last night's game in Kerens. The loss knocked the Lions a notch down the ladder.

Dawson thumped Mildred 25-6 in Dawson, and Frost crushed Coolidge, 33-6. Hubbard buried Kossie in a non-conference encounter 47-0 in Hubbard.

Sophomore fullback Huey Rush sparked the Laddies to their win in Italy last night. He reeled off touchdown runs of 80, 80 and 50 yards and played a jam-up defensive game. James (Crazy Legs) Foster bruised over in a 20 yard run for the remaining Laddie tally. Roger Perona and Macca Lawrence converted.

The Lads scored early, and led at halftime by a 13-0 count. Leon Hull at guard and Leon Hambrick at tackle led the Laddie line that throttled all the Gladiators scoring attempts.

The most interesting and thrilling game of the week in 20-B was played at Kerens last night, however. Battling for survival in the race for first place, the Bobcats finally overpowered the Blooming Grove crew.

The combination of Dink Reese and Dick Bissett paid off for Kerens. This duo tallied the first TD in the second period as Reese scored first quarter, but Reese failed to convert. The Lions came back on a pass from Tommy Jordan to Trini Rhodes that covered 60 yards and tallied. Rhodes added the extra point to put the Lions ahead.

The Reese to Bissett combination functioned again just before the half, and Reese converted to give Kerens a 13-7 halftime advantage.

The Bobcats opened the third quarter with another scoring drive, with Billy Wayne Thompson skirting left end for 20 yards for the tally. The conversion attempt failed, and Kerens led, 19-7. That was the final score.

Grove made a dying effort in the closing minutes of the game by driving to the Kerens 3, where the Bobcats turned them back.

Robert Smith, Pat Smith and Bobby Nesmith made all of Dawson's tallies as the Bulldogs downed Mildred, 25-6. Jay Whitten passed to James Goodin for the only Mildred tally.

Frost pounded Coolidge by a comfortable 33-6 margin in Frost. The passing and running of Walter McClure featured the Polar Bear offense, and the winners depended mainly on their potent passing game to throttle the Coolidge crew.

Morris English and Otto Mills each racked up two TD's apiece to lead the Hubbard Jaguars to their 47-0 slaughter of the Kossie crew in a non-conference tilt.

Bobby Poer, J. C. Foster and Jack Mills added one touchdown each.

Governor Frees Negro Convicted Of Liquor Sale

Clint Moye, the negro bellhop who got a year in jail and a $1,000 fine for selling an officer a pint of whiskey, was freed Friday by a gubernatorial proclamation.

Moye had served three months and 16 days of his sentence. The remainder of the term and $900 of the fine were remitted by Governor Shivers' order, which was issued on the basis of the pardon board's recommendation. Attorney David Pevchouse reported.

The former bellhop was convicted September 23, 1948 by a county court jury of violating the prohibition laws, and was assessed the most severe penalty ever given in such a case in Navarro county.

Attorneys at the time appealed the case but it was affirmed by the higher court on April 27, 1949.

Pevchouse recently brought the matter to the attention of the Board of Pardons and Pardon Recommendations for the negro's release were submitted. It was contended the punishment was "excessive."

As a result of the governor's order, Moye's punishment amounted to the 106 days he spent in jail, $74.20 court costs and a $100 fine, Pevchouse said.

He was convicted of selling the pint of liquor to an undercover liquor control board agent.

Hillsboro Team Defeats Cisco

CISCO, Oct. 14.—Hillsboro Junior College Indians defeated the Cisco College Wranglers here Thursday night, 18-6.

Neither club scored during the first half, but Hillsboro moved the second-half kick-off down the field from its own 34-yard stripe for the opening score. George McKlinton and George Wilkinson alternated in the drive with McKlinton going over for the marker from the 3-yard zone on a hand-off from Cecil Franks. Tommy Cole's kick was low.

Cisco romped back to take a 7-to-6 lead on the ensuing kick-off with a 30-yard heave from Leonard Grigsby to Lonnie Crosby the payoff with Crosby converting.

Hillsboro roared back to win the game in the fourth period when McKlinton again plunged over the Cisco line from the 3-yard zone and Coles converted.
